

CONTRACTOR CASTOE SHOT TO DEATH AT NEWPORT

FORMERLY LIVED HERE, WAS EITHER MURDERED OR IS A SUICIDE VICTIM

Martin A. Castoe, a well known contractor, who was quite a familiar figure in and about Portsmouth in recent years, was the victim of a mysterious shooting on the Alexandria pike, back of Newport, Ky., Thursday night, dying seven hours after his removal to a hospital there.

A young woman stenographer who was Castoe's companion in the ill fated buggy ride, is in a hysterical condition at the same hospital and up to Friday morning all efforts to write any story of the shooting from her were unavailing. She gave the name of Miss Nellie Hilton. A close examination of her effects in Castoe's Cincinnati office, No. 39 Glenn building, revealed the name of Miss Gertrude Schreick, No. 708 Third street, Portsmouth, O., and Cincinnati police and newspaper men at once suspected that might be the girl's right name and address. It soon developed though that Miss Schreick was at her work as stenographer in the office of Bernard Augustin, Jr., local wholesale grocer. She had worked for Castoe, she said, for only a period of three weeks. That was immediately after her graduation from St. Mary's Commercial College three years ago. She says that she wrote her name in her own dictionary, which she kept at the office at the time she was employed by Castoe, and this is doubtless the dictionary found in the office of the dead man. Miss Schreick knew nothing of the man's family connections nor did she know any girl named Hilton. The name does not appear in the Portsmouth directory.

Miss Hilton claims that Castoe shot himself. Castoe also maintained that he shot himself, but would give no reason.

Cincinnati, Oct. 23.—After having been cared for several hours at a hospital, Miss Hilton quieted down sufficiently to say a few words. She then told Campbell county officials that in the darkness of the lonely spot where the shooting was done she saw the flash of the exploding revolver cartridge, a tall man. She claims that she did not see anything more than that. Efforts to question were dropped when she again became hysterical. There is absolutely no clue to the "tall man" Miss Hilton mentions, nor the revolver which was used has not been found, and the only clue regarding what transpired previous to the shooting which is now known is that Castoe and the woman were seen struggling, as if for the possession of something, while seated in Castoe's buggy and that later Castoe made a remark which indicates that he had quarreled with the woman.

Woman Stood In Roadway Screaming. The shooting of the contractor was a tragedy which was witnessed by an automobile party which was attracted to a young woman in the roadway frantically shouting for help. Finding the Portsmouth contractor was mortally wounded they hurried by an automobile party. (Continued On Page Ten)

Desperate Convict Stabs Guard To Death

Columbus, Oct. 23.—J. W. Adrix, a convict, shot and killed a guard at the Ohio State Penitentiary today. The bullet struck the guard in the shoulder inflicting a fatal wound. Adrix was in the prison for a long time and had been in solitary confinement for some time. He was found in the prison today, having been seen by a guard. The guard was shot in the back and died. Adrix was taken to the hospital. The prison authorities are investigating the case. (Continued On Page Ten)

"The Doctor Was A Devil With The Girls," People Told Mrs. Carman And She Immediately Grew Suspicious," She Said

Mingoia, Oct. 23.—Mrs. Flor (they were). She faced a crowded court room. Among the 200 or more spectators who occupied every available bit of space were long time friends and neighbors whose faces were wreathed with hopeful smiles as she began her story. Ranged directly opposite her chair, within the enclosure and less than a dozen steps away were the mother, the daughter and the husband of the woman whose life the state asserts she took. This little group of school girl, grand-mother and middle-aged man followed with intense eagerness every word of her testimony. Just before the defendant took the chair she crossed over to her mother, Mrs. Conklin, sitting at the counsel table, leaned over and kissed her. Mrs. Carman First Begins To Doubt. "Mrs. Carman," began the district attorney, "you said you were suspicious of your husband. When did you get suspicious?" "About a year ago," What caused her suspicion she could not say. "A woman did not cause it—just rumors." "Were the rumors about a woman?" "No. Just some one asking him about his girls. Somebody told me he was a devil with the girls." She could not recall who told her this or where, or when. At Mrs. Smith's bidding she named away men, friends of Dr. Carman, but did not name one of them as having said: "How are all your girls?" "Somebody was asking him that question all the time," she continued. "They were jesting. I thought at first, but after a while I thought they might be some truth in what they said. They would say to me, 'The doctor is some devil.'"

THE CAMPAIGN IN OHIO

SOUTHERN SENATORS BLOCK ADJOURNMENT; WAR TAX BILL SIGNED

Washington, Oct. 23.—All efforts to adjourn congress sine die failed again today and the senate by adjourning over to noon tomorrow postponed the end of the session at least another day. Talking of President Wilson's signing his constitutional privilege and adjourning congress was heard in official circles but nothing materialized. Senate leaders hoped some arrangement could be made to pass the bank law amendments and the cotton warehouse bill, for which cotton states members were filibustering without the necessary quorum tomorrow. In the house the filibuster continued before the quorumless body until 1:45 o'clock when adjournment was taken to noon tomorrow. When Majority Leader Kern finally brought up a resolution for the senate to adjourn until tomorrow Senator Clarke, of Arkansas, began a long speech on "the state of the union." He told southern senators it was folly for them to insist on their cotton legislation. Meanwhile in the house roll call followed roll call without disclosing a quorum and Mr. Underwood said none could be secured until after elections. An effort to adjourn the house failed, 92 to 58, with sixty-three members backing to make up a sufficient number to do business. After Senator Clark's speech the senate adjourned to noon tomorrow and hopes of an end to day went guttering. Washington, Oct. 23.—Congress met today with the program for adjournment completely upended as a result of obstructive tactics on the part of the southern Democrats who are demanding (Continued On Page 9.)

GERMAN WAR BULLETIN

Berlin, Oct. 23. (via London, 5:10).—An official announcement from German army headquarters dated Oct. 23 says: "On the Yser canal yesterday we gained success." "To the south of the Dixmude our troops advanced." "To the west of Lille our attacks are successful, we took possession of several villages." "On the rest of the western front it is generally quiet." "In the eastern theatre of the war the Russian attacks near West Augustowo have been repulsed. We capture several machine guns." "There is no definite news from the southeastern field of war."

"HACKING THROUGH" TACTICS OF GERMANS COMPLETELY STEMS CONCERTED EFFORT OF ALLIES

London, Oct. 23. (1:50 p. m.)—The only rock bottomed fact which English men are able to point to today as a basis for their belief that the climax has about been reached in the sea, land and air battle across the channel is that armies, however numerous, cannot indefinitely face the decimation of their ranks which has marked this, the latest phase of the great campaign.

For nearly a week now this tripartite combat has raged with unabated fury between forces up to the present time so equal in strength that the fronts have swung back and forth without either being able to register a decisive victory. That the slaughter in these fierce efforts and counter efforts to break through the opposing lines, transients—anything heretofore seen in this campaign is admitted on both sides. Nevertheless, neither the terrible effect of the long range British naval guns over flat lands offering no natural defensive positions, although aimed for both officially and unofficially, nor the onslaughts of the allied forces on land, has yet succeeded in stemming the "hacking through" tactics of the Germans.

All Sides Claim Victories. English news dispatches make sweeping claims of annihilating successes, German advices assert continued progress and Russian telegrams report great victories but well defined evidence to support these various contentions is lacking and the real fact appears to be that in neither the eastern nor the western arena of the war has the tide yet turned decisively. German Sea Haul Confirmed. The great haul of merchant ships by the German Cruiser Karlsruhe, now fully confirmed and from Las Palmas, has been made shock to those who have contended that the Atlantic ocean was held safely by the British navy, but the apologists have lost no time in pointing out that the first cannot be at the same moment conveying hundreds of transports and safeguarding every merchant ship. The sinking of merchant vessels without loss of life, it is being remarked, involves no military injury while the capture of a group of transports would be a disaster. Chambers of commerce, however, are agitating for a sweeping operation sufficiently wide to net both the German Cruiser Karlsruhe, in Italian waters, and the unusually successful Karlsruhe.

German Iron Clad Playing Havoc With British Commerce

London, Oct. 23.—(6:40 A. M.)—A despatch from Tenerife, Canary Island, to the Daily Mail, under date of Thursday, reports that the German cruiser Karlsruhe has sunk thirteen British merchantmen in the Atlantic. The news of the Karlsruhe's exploit, according to the Daily Mail's Tenerife correspondent, was brought to that port by the German steamer Grefeld, which arrived there with the crew of the British steamers Strathroy, Maple Branch, Highland Hope, Indrani, Rio Igassu, Fara, Nicola, Maria de Larrinaga, Gervantes, Cornish City, Fruth, Condor and Lynrowan, all of which were sunk by the Karlsruhe. The Grefeld was accompanied into port by the German steamers Patagonia, Rio Negro and Asuncion. A later message states that over 400 men of the crew are prisoners and that the merchantmen were mostly sunk in the Atlantic. The ships were mostly engaged in the South American trade and their total tonnage is about 60,000.

The cruiser Karlsruhe, a ship of a trifle less than five thousand tons, has had in this war a career as eventful in the Atlantic as that of her smaller sister ship, the Emden, in the Indian ocean. The Karlsruhe first came into notice at the outbreak of the war, when she appeared in the vicinity of the British cruiser Suffolk and of Sandy Hook apparently in wait for British merchant men leaving New York. For a few days the British shipping hugged their diaphanous and then came news that the Karlsruhe had been driven away by the approach of several British cruisers. On August 9 the Karlsruhe appeared in the harbor of San Juan, Porto Rico, where she sailed and then again took to the sea. Soon after it was learned that the Karlsruhe had been in a sensational running fight at sea with the British cruiser Suffolk and of Sandy Hook apparently in wait for British merchant men leaving New York. For a few days the British shipping hugged their diaphanous and then came news that the Karlsruhe had been driven away by the approach of several British cruisers. An official statement given out in Berlin on Oct.

I said that she had sunk seven British steamers in the Atlantic. The Karlsruhe is a comparatively new ship, having gone into commission early in 1913. She is very fast, having a speed of 27 knots, which has enabled her to persistently elude the persistent British pursuit. Her main armament consists of twelve 4.1 inch guns and she carries a crew of 373 men.

Steamboat Sinks

Alton, Ill., Oct. 23.—The steamboat Belle of Calhoun sank in the Mississippi river near here today. The thirty passengers on board were landed safely on an island. The steamboat was on its way to St. Louis from Calhoun, Illinois, with a consignment of 4,700 barrels of apples.

CAPIAS FOR LORIMER

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Capiases were being prepared today for the arrest of Lorimer, U. S. Senator from Illinois. Capiases for Wm. Lorimer, Chas. B. Munday and twelve other officials of the LaSalle Street Bank and allied institutions against whom indictments were returned yesterday charging them with looting the bank.

BILLY BUTT-IN The Times Weather Man

"The way the allies have been advancing" for the past several weeks I can't understand how it comes that they can't any further along than the war maps show. On Oct. 23, "Some queer things happen." "The Karlsruhe has been in a sensational running fight at sea with the British cruiser Suffolk and of Sandy Hook apparently in wait for British merchant men leaving New York. For a few days the British shipping hugged their diaphanous and then came news that the Karlsruhe had been driven away by the approach of several British cruisers. ## THE MARKETS

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Renewal of demand from Europe rallied the wheat market today after an early setback due largely to speculative selling pressure.

After opening 1-4 off to 1-8 up and suffering a material decline all around, the market rose well above last night's level.

Unsettled weather had a bullish effect on corn. Crop damage reports from Argentina counted also against the bears. The opening which was unchanged to 1-4 higher, was followed by a decided climb.

Oats stayed with wheat. Price changes, however, were narrow. Provisions were steadied by the firmness of the hog market. The chief demand was for lard.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 21.—Domestic reports as to the yield of wheat in western Canada put additional strength in the wheat market. The volume of transactions broadened out to an unusual extent. Closing prices were steady at an advance of 1-4 to 1-2.

Husking returns that continued to favor the bulls led to still higher prices in corn. The rise was morning and evening, above last night's level.

Mr. Charles Gould, of Sheridan, was taken ill with appendicitis while in Ashland Wednesday and was removed to his home, where he was operated upon at once. He is attended by three doctors and a trained nurse and is in a serious condition. Mrs. J. J. A truly enjoyable occasion was the party given Tuesday evening at Offene in honor of the twenty-first birthday anniversary of Elvin Hazelbeck.

His mother, Mrs. M. E. Lench, arranged the delightful event commemorating the day that Elvin became a "man." The gathering was held at the home of Mrs. Lench's mother, Mrs. R. E. Wamsley, and the house was beautifully decorated for the festivities with a profusion of red and white daisies.

presenting a pretty and hospitable aspect to the assembled guests. A delightful three-course lunch was served during the evening. Mrs. Lench being assisted by Mrs. Wilbur Hanson of Portsmouth.

These who were present to enjoy this really delightful party were: Misses Florence McGowan, Nellie Greer, Myrtle Braden, Anna Kraft, A. J. McFarland, A. J. Sorensen, E. C. Conwell, Maud Beeding, Rosa.

A delightful social event of this afternoon was a beautiful reception given by Mrs. J. C. Sears and Mrs. A. J. McFarland at Mrs. Sorensen's home on Grant street. The rooms were attractive with a tasteful arrangement of autumn leaves, daisies and roses. The dining room was adorned in yellow and white. During the evening hours, from two thirty till four-thirty, over one hundred handsomely attired women called. The guest book was in charge of Mrs. E. C. McCoy, who saw that each guest received her name. Mrs. W. D. Gilliland and Mrs. F. E. Manning invited the guests to the dining room, which was presided over by Mrs. J. M. Graham. The delicious refreshments were served from an exquisite table adorned with yellow and white daisies and autumnal ferns.

Misses Edith Dore, Violet Cunningham and Virginia Hildinger, Mrs. Arthur Willey planned the feast, silky and soft, and look like a hundred times better.

If you want to have your hair looking rich, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for nothing destroys the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straight, full, dry, brittle and lifeless, and every body makes it. You can get Rid of dandruff at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

THE EASIEST WAY TO END DANDRUFF

Stop Falling Hair and Itching Scalp.

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it and does this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid acetone, apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single dandruff and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and itching of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be shiny, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look like a hundred times better.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get At the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach and liver ailments are doing now. Instead of taking laxatives, or trying to patch up a poor digestive system, they are attacking the real cause of the trouble—clogged liver and diseased bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the only thing doing anything now. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, loss of sleep, constipation, or any of the above, you should take Olive Tablets, the safe, natural way.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound and mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without giving cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief, so you can eat what you like. At the end of 25 or 30 days, a letter will be sent to you.

I LEAVE IT TO YOU---WHAT CAN I DO?

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly.—Has Officer Bonzo still got a beat. I never hear much about him any more?

JOE.

You bet he's still got a beat Joe, and if you see him coming you had better "beat it"—that is if you are doing the "hunting" along Chillicothe or Gallia street.

Dear Dolly.—I am a nice, respectable young man who hasn't been in your city very long, and would like a little advice. I met a very nice girl not long ago, and last Sunday night a week ago, asked to call on her, but she refused me, saying she did not wish to keep company with any one, as such a thing wasn't necessary. What did she mean by that? I have learned since that she has been inquiring around among my friends about me. Do you think she carries anything about me and would you advise me to ask to call again, or let her drop?

WORRIED ED.

When you asked to call on Sunday evening the young lady no doubt presumed that you were asking for "steady company," as I believe a steady usually takes Sunday evening. Of course, she did not know you well enough to accept your attentions, in that manner. She perhaps is longing about to ascertain what sort of a man you are. If she hears only favorable reports, she may be willing to receive you at her home the next time you ask to call. Suppose you ask her again if you may call or invite her to some place of amusement, or to go walking. Just simply be friendly to her. If the girl does not care to marry she would not be playing fair and square with any man by keeping steady company.

Dear Dolly.—How may I remove iron rust from clothing, using something other than lemon juice and salt? A drug if possible.

MRS. E. T. O.

Chloride of lime will do the work, or oxalic acid employed in the form of a concentrated aqueous solution.

Dear Dolly.—I am going with a man of 23 and I love him dearly. How can I make him think more of me? He used to take me riding and all at once he stopped. Then he came to see me for awhile and stopped again. Do you think he carries anything about me?

LOUISE.

He seems interested in you, but whether he loves you or not, is another matter, which I could not tell you of. If you pursue him you will doubtless find him "hot."

coming less interested in you. Men do not want to be sought after.

Dear Dolly.—I am a girl of 19 and am going with a man of 23. My father is opposed to me going with him. I like him and he seems to like me. My mother has no objections. My father will not let him come to my home to see me.

GRACE.

I can't settle the matter for you. The only thing to do is to have a talk with your father and find out what his objections to the young man are. He probably has good reasons or he would not object, still I think he might be willing to tell you what they are.

Dear Dolly.—Will you please tell me how to remove ink stains from a white linen centerpiece?

A READER.

The drug stores sell an ink eraser which is the best thing I can recommend, if you will use it according to directions on the package. If you cannot get this, get some oxalic acid at the drug store. Wet spot with cold water, then drop acid on the stain and immediately rinse with water with a little ammonia in it. Do this as often as needed. With patience you will take out the stain without injuring the cloth. You might first try the remedy of sour milk, changing milk as often as it gets discolored.

Dear Dolly.—I have been going with a man for six months. He says he loves me dearly and wants to marry me in two months, but I cannot come to a decision. What is the trouble?

BLAZE EYES.

I think you do not love him.

Dear Dolly Wise.—I have a few questions which I would like very much for you to answer. Tell me what would be nice to serve at a Halloween party and what would be nice for a sonnet? How is my writing and spelling?

LITTLE THINGS E. M. & M. Y. Serve sweet cider and doughnuts, or pumpkin pie and coffee. You can buy favors and all kinds of Halloween decorations at a very little cost from the local stores. The show windows are full of them.

MRS. CARMAN

"Did you have an inclination to hear what the doctor had to say to his women patients?"

"Yes, in a way. Some of his patients."

"Did you ask him where he was when he was out all night?"

"Yes, and he told me."

"Did you believe him?"

"Yes, some times."

"Did your suspicious increase with time?"

"They increased up to the time of the murder. They have all been dispelled now."

"How long have you been in the frame of mind?"

"Ever since the terrible tragedy. What I heard or rather what I did not hear over the telephone instrument reassured me."

For several minutes Mrs. Carman sought to evade a direct answer to the district attorney question as to whether she thought that her husband was truthful. Finally she said: "No."

She explained that she had no real reason to doubt him, however. She was suspicious at first, of the woman who called frequently at his office and finally she was suspicious of nearly all of his women callers.

She Got Tired Of Hearing Things.

"I got tired of hearing things," she said.

"And the fact that a woman would come to his office after words was enough to make you suspicious? Were you suspicious of your husband or the woman?" asked Mr. Smith.

"Both," said Mrs. Carman firmly.

Some women Mrs. Carman said, were more attractive to her husband than she was, she had thought, she did not know if there were more than one, but she wanted to find out. "I had no particular woman in mind," she said.

Mr. Smith asked if she thought Mrs. Varance, the middle-aged nurse whose face she slapped were more attractive than she. Mrs. Carman smiled, and answered: "No."

Under the rapid volley of the district attorney's questions, Mrs. Carman color rose and fell. She blushed, she clenched her gloved hands. She appeared to be about to faint, but her bottle of smelling salts revived her.

She was made to describe the entire scene with Mrs. Varance.

Saw Nurse Kiss Her Husband.

She said she saw Dr. Carman give the nurse $15 and saw her kiss him afterwards. It was the passing of the money and not the kiss that disturbed her, she said.

"You did not object to another woman kissing your husband in gratitude?"

"Oh, no," replied Mrs. Carman.

"How long after the passing of the money was the kiss administered?"

"A few minutes. They were sitting down alongside each other at the time."

Mrs. Carman said she did not trap on the window when the kiss was given but waited until Mrs. Varance started to leave the office.

"You went past, fast around the lawn to get to the door before Mrs. Varance didn't you?"

"Yes."

In reply to an inquiry Mrs. Carman indicated that she slapped Mrs. Varance with the back of her hand.

"Now, as to the night of the shooting," said Mr. Smith, "did you hear a shot?"

"No, I heard some commotion."

"What?" shouted the district attorney.

"Well, I don't know, whether I heard a shot or not, I heard a noise."

"And your curiosity was aroused?"

"Surely. It was an unusual sound."

She thought it had come from the rear of the house and it took her about a minute to get down stairs, as she reached the head of the stairs she saw two women going down the hall but she made no effort to find out who they were.

After she went down stairs she leaned against the mantle piece for a moment. She did not see about to faint, but her bottle of smelling salts revived her.

She was made to describe the entire scene with Mrs. Varance.

When Mrs. Carman had concluded, members of her household followed her to the stand and swore that what she had testified to was true.

Before she was excused, Mrs. Carman described in detail how she tore out the telephone instrument and its wires between her room and the doctor's office and her hid the wires, batteries, sound gatherer and the receiver in the garret, under the floor.

"Mrs. Carman," said the district attorney, "if your suspicions were dispelled by what you heard, why did you not tell the truth on June 23 when your husband was in the room?"

"To this Mrs. Carman would give no direct answer although the district attorney framed the request in several different ways.

Mrs. Carman said she learned the identity of the victim late Tuesday night. She said she felt sorry for the family of Mrs. Bailey but that she had not expressed her sympathy to them because "she did not feel at liberty to do so."

Family Affairs Woman's Story.

Mrs. Sarah Conklin, Mrs. Ida Powell, Elizabeth Carman, mother, sister, daughter, one by one affirmed her story that she was in bed when the shot was fired.

That she donned a kimono and slippers, went down stairs into the waiting room, leaned for a minute or two against the mantle piece and then returned to her room.

Little Child Confirms Mother.

Mrs. Carman's 10-year old daughter Elizabeth was the next witness. In a childish tremble she gave her version of what had happened in the Carman household the night of the murder.

After dinner, she said, she had gone out and played on lawn.

"Mother went up stairs. She continued, "My aunt and my grandmother were on the porch. Later I went into the parlor and started to practice on the piano."

My mother told me to stop. Then I went into the dining room, walked through the hall and sat in a chair in the dining room. Presently I heard glass break and a shot. I met my aunt on the stairs. I went in my mother's room. My mother was there. When I ran back through the hall I saw my mother put on her slippers and kimono and I followed her down stairs. When I went up again, when she came up in a minute, I went into her room with her."

On cross-examination, District Attorney Smith asked only one question.

"Elizabeth, you are very fond of your mother, aren't you?"

"Yes, sir," she replied.

"That's all," said the prosecutor.

Mrs. Carman Breaks Into Tears.

Just as Mrs. Sarah A. Conklin, Mrs. Carman's mother, 72 years old took the stand, the defendant burst into tears. She buried her face in her handkerchief and her shoulders shook with sobs.

Mrs. Conklin's testimony corroborated that given by Mrs. Carman and Elizabeth. Similar corroborative testimony was given by Mrs. Carman's sister, Mrs. Ida Powell.

Mrs. Powell said she let two women who had been waiting, out of the front door of the house. The night latch snapped, shutting her out, she said, but she went around the side of the house and entered the waiting room door.

She didn't see Farrell, she said, although she was on the front porch less than a minute after she heard the report of a revolver.

The witness denied that she had seen Celia Coleman in the doctor's office that night.

tor's office that night. Celia had testified that she saw Mrs. Powell there the first time she followed Mrs. Carman to the office.

Mrs. Powell said it was she who told Mrs. Carman what had happened, thereby corroborating the defendant's story.

When Mrs. Powell was excused, George Golder, who had testified for the state, was called by the defense. His testimony was unchanged and he denied that he had seen a woman in a kimono followed by a colored girl come into the office through the pantry door.

Golder Gets Mixed Up.

On cross-examination Golder admitted he had told the grand jury that a colored girl followed a woman into the office directly after the shooting. He also testified that he had said the woman and the colored girl left the room together through the waiting room door.

With Golder left on the stand, recess was taken until 1:45 o'clock.

Dr. Carman Takes Stand.

Dr. Edwin Carman, husband of the defendant was called after recess. He corroborated the testimony of other members of his household as to who was in the house the night of the murder.

He said there were several persons among them Mrs. Bailey, whom he did not know at that time sitting in the waiting room.

"After I had talked to Mrs. Bailey," the witness continued, "she prepared to go home, then the glass in the window was broken and a revolver fired through it. I had my hand on the door knob. I dropped behind the operating table. Then there was a shot. Mrs. Bailey said 'I'm shot'."

I told her she was all right and then I saw blood. I grabbed her and pulled her back of the chair out of range of more bullets. Then she died."

Dr. Carman said Celia was in his office once that night but that Mrs. Carman was not. Dr. Carman said he looked at the window as he grabbed Mrs. Bailey but saw nothing. He was sure the door between the pantry and the office was locked.

On cross-examination, District Attorney Smith asked whether it was true that he had more women patients than men. He denied this. He said that he had been practicing for 25 years. Dr. Carman denied he had ever told the grand jury he had his hand on Mrs. Bailey's shoulder.

Under cross-examination, later Dr. Carman, when asked if he had ever seen Mrs. Bailey before she called at his office on the night of the murder, testified "I think she was in my office the night before."

This was the first time Dr. Carman had indicated that he had seen Mrs. Bailey before the night of the murder.

Dr. Carman was asked about the strange man in his office, the man who said that he was coming back but did not do so.

"What did this man who came into your office do?" asked Mr. Smith.

"He shook hands with me and said he had someone who he wanted me to see."

"Who was the man?"

"I don't know. I had seen him somewhere before."

In regard to the two women Mrs. Powell allowed to go out of the house Dr. Carman said had made some effort to learn their identities but he had been unsuccessful.

As the leaders had no definite plans, the date on which the session would come to an end, was still problematical early today, despite the fact that they had hoped that the final disposition of the war tax measure would be the concluding act of the session and that the work of congress was still uncompleted, as cotton state members had served notice they would continue today their fight for legislative aid for cotton growers.

Meantime the war tax bill, estimated to bring in $30,000,000 of revenue was the law of the land today, having received the signature of President Wilson. The taxes on beers and wines were in effect today, but the levy on tobacco will not go into effect until November 1. The stamp taxes will date from December 1. President Wilson had signed the bill at the capitol amid exciting scenes, senators who were endeavoring to carry out the adjournment program were running back and forth between the president's room and the senate chamber, watches in their hands, as the hour set for adjournment approached.

The question of adjournment was still further complicated today by reason of the fact that many members of both houses had already left for their homes in anticipation of the plans for adjournment last night being carried out. Majority leader Underwood was of the opinion that under these circumstances it would be impossible to have a quorum on hand again to pass an adjournment resolution until after the elections. The question of whether congress would remain in session indefinitely without a quorum of either house hinged upon whether an agreement could be reached today for a recess until after the November elections.

Although Majority Leader Kern, and other Democratic senators, had expressed doubts regarding adjournment at this time, it was believed that the recess plan might be agreed to today by Democrats from the cotton states.

Chicago, Oct. 23. State a check this will become a part of the bill, which will be passed by the Illinois, Dr. C. E. Crawford, state health inspector, asserted today, even if it is found necessary to place the entire town under quarantine. The situation, Dr. Crawford said, is alarming, as it is against the religious belief of Zionists to be vaccinated, and the state cannot enforce this. More than 12 cases of smallpox have been placed under quarantine.

Antwerp Deserted By German Troops

London, Oct. 23. (10.25 a.m.) A dispatch from Rotterdam to the Star says:

"The movement of the German troops westward from Antwerp has left only a few hundred men in town. The last batch left yesterday morning and most of the great forts are now without garrisons. The German wounded from the front are being quartered at the Zoo."

"A traveler who has just left the city says that some one restored the Belgian flag in the town hall and the Germans did not bother to take it down."

The whole Belgian coast is now deserted by the population, the military being in sole possession.

"At Ostend over a hundred locomotives have been collected. The correspondent hazards a guess that they are for use in a campaign against the Belgian coast."

Although Majority Leader Kern, and other Democratic senators, had expressed doubts regarding adjournment at this time, it was believed that the recess plan might be agreed to today by Democrats from the cotton states.

Flood and Blake's prescription window in the East End is one of the most attractive that has ever been shown in the city. In the exhibit are three prescriptions, the first compounded by the store July 5, 1893, the prescriptions being written by Dr. Crawford. One of the features of the display is a large graduate showing six different liquids of varied colors. These liquids will not mix. Another attraction is a vessel containing mercury with tacks floating around on top. Various ingredients of prescriptions and the various stages of the manufacture of pills are also shown. ## DRY ORATOR STIRS UP GREATEST ENTHUSIASM

Thrilled as one of the most powerful speakers who have taken the platform in the defense of prohibition, the wet and dry campaign as it is being waged in the Buckeye state, and he grew so enthusiastic as he warmed up to his theme against the liquor traffic that it was rather difficult to follow everything he had to say.

Mr. Rittenhouse had a world of interesting data in his finger tips and he soon had his big audience cheering his every statement.

Steadily built, with a keen, piercing eye, a man with snap and fire in his make-up, Mr. Rittenhouse soon demonstrated his oratorical ability and as a denouncer of rum and all its by-products, he is almost in a class by himself.

"Do you know that the Home Rule amendment was written by the greatest genius that the wet forces have at their command? I have read it through and through and I am still in the dark as to its contents," said the speaker. "And why was this important amendment couched in such peculiarly constructed language? Why, to fool you dry people, that is all. The greatest attorneys we have in this country have tried to decipher the meaning of the amendment, but have given up the task as a failure. It was drafted to fool the dry element of the state, but its purpose will be defeated. The Home Rule amendment will be sniped under on November 3," said Mr. Rittenhouse.

"Now you take the amendment to prohibit the sale, manufacture and importation of liquor, and any school child can decipher it. We have treated the voters of Ohio fairly, but the wet element haven't treated us fairly.

"Why all this talk about mind fences in dry towns? It has been my observation that where you have a mayor who is not blind, a chief of police who is not blind, a city council who is not blind and a sheriff who is not blind, you won't have any saloons there. They only exist in towns where the city officials turn their backs to them and permit these hell holes to thrive un molested," asserted Mr. Rittenhouse.

"Do you know what would cause the greatest business revival in this country?" asked the speaker. "Well, I will tell you. When the 5,000,000 men, women and children quit visiting saloons every business day of the year, that is when we will have the greatest business revival ever heard of in this country. Just suppose the money that is dumped into the tills of the saloonists of this country was placed in legitimate business channels, what would happen? Why he would become so prosperous in a short time that we would be the envy of the entire world.

"Then they tell us that prohibition doesn't prohibit. That is an ancient wheeze that is threadbare. If prohibition doesn't prohibit, who is it that the breweries of Cincinnati are helping over the loss of $300,000 worth of business since West Virginia voted dry? It is because the demand isn't there anymore. That is all there is to it. This gang that mop whiskey is sold in dry territory than in wet territory is an infamous and willful lie," asserted Mr. Rittenhouse.

"If the $2,750,000,000 spent in the saloons of America were used to establish a new city, you could buy 60,000 lots, put up $2,500 homes on them, spend $1,000 in furnishing each one of them and then go to your bank and deposit $441 to your own name. That is what you could do. Is it any wonder that we want to drive liquor out of America? Of course it is! We not only want to drive it to hell, where it came from, but we are going to do it, and in Ohio on November 3," said the speaker with considerable vehemence.

"Do you know how they test the sanity of a person, who is about ready to leave the Columbus asylum? Well, I'll tell you.

"They take the inmate into a big room, give him a mop and then turn on the hydrant to flood the floor the inmate is trying to mop up. If the fellow calmly walks over and shuts off the water, then they know he is sane, and he is later on discharged. But if he decends around in two inches of water trying to mop the floor dry with the hydrant wide open, he is taken back to his room. So it is in the wet and dry situation. We have been doing a little effective mopping of our own and to have to do a little more of the like, our interests continue to pour their liquid damnation on our feet," said the speaker.

"We mopped a little and Georgia went dry. We mopped a little more and Tennessee went dry. We mopped a little more, then we got

New York.—"The skin on my hand got red and rough. It itched so that I began to scratch it. It itched so that I could not sleep all night. I was suffering very much. # MISSIONARY TELLS ABOUT THE LAND OF TOMORROW

The Seventh Annual Presbyterian District Missionary meeting of Seaside, Jackson and Lawrence counties was brought to a close at the First Presbyterian church Thursday when Missionary Brown gave a very interesting lecture that occupied the whole of the evening.

The evening session was opened by a short prayer, followed by a vocal solo, "Anchored," Miss Edna Wilhelm of the First Presbyterian church, presided at the piano during the evening session.

Mr. Robert Brown who is a returned missionary from Mexico, has just returned from a tour of inspection of the land of tomorrow. He was a missionary stationed at Cuernavaca, a suburb of Mexico City for eleven years and is familiar with his subject which he ably discussed. Cuernavaca is only a twenty minute ride from Mexico City and is the capital city of the state of Morelos. The missionaries kept right up to the hilt.

Mexico is the land where every thing is done tomorrow. When Huerta was asked to salute the American flag he simply replied, "Tomorrow" but in his own language, this is one of the characteristics of Mexican life. No one knows this better than the missionary.

"Mexico has undergone four years of civil strife as long as our own country did from 1861 to '64. Business has gone on in a general way in spite of the great disorder in the country. The people of our country know very little of Mexico. It has wonderful natural resources. The mines have been due to our troubles and the work of one man in the capital city building is to list the new mines opened up from day to day. Mexico has thousands of acres of the best agricultural land in the world but they are laying in waste waiting to be worked in a scientific way.

There are innumerable plantations of rice, coffee, sugar cane, rubber, bananas, pineapples and tobacco. The large number of people who live in the country are in the hills to 5000 feet. More good has been accomplished in Mexico in the eighteen months of the present administration than of all the administrations of fifty years ago.

The general cause of the war and civil strife of the past four years was that the laboring men realized that they had certain rights under the constitutions of Mexico that were not being granted them and they decided that they would come into their own by obtaining them through a fight. The laboring men want to be free and not be ruled by a few men when the laws of his country give him the right to act as he sees fit.

Cuernavaca the home of the missionaries schools has history of one

DOCTORS USING AMOLOX WITH GREAT SUCCESS

Endorsed by Leading Druggists

Amolox, the new remedy for eczema and all diseases of the skin, is curing thousands of people who have been unable to find relief after trying everything else. A well known physician, who had a patient with a bad case of eczema of the scalp, had almost entirely exhausted with scaly sores rapidly becoming bald, reported after one week's treatment with the Amolox prescription that the hair stopped falling out, scalp was rapidly healing and a new growth of healthy hair just starting. Quoting the exact words of the doctor, "That Amolox is great stuff."

Amolox is a clean, harmless liquid applied to the skin, stops all itching and burning instantly. With cure eczema and all skin troubles and will clear up a muddy complexion, or pimples on face in 24 hours.

All sufferers from eczema, salt patches, letter, acne, barber's itch and pimples on the face should go to their druggists at once and get a bottle of Amolox. If you are not satisfied, it will not cost you a cent. Wurster Bros. will refund your money if not satisfied. Try. Trial size 50 cents.

thousand years. The white race has been in power over four hundred years in Mexico but today she is fifty years behind that of any country that has as well as Mexico.

Mr. Brown told of some of the peculiar laws of the country one being that the occupant of a house is arrested when his home burns down.

Mr. Brown cited an incident where he saw a Bible burned in the streets of Mexico City. Many of the people of Mexico are uneducated. The first university and first printing press in the new world were first found in Mexico City. He said that the American flag had been referred to as the Protestant banner a number of times in Mexico City. Mr. Brown is of the opinion that if he would go back now with the other missionaries that they would be welcomed. He concluded his part of the evening lecture with a Mexican song, "El Apasento Alto" composed by Mendoza a Mexican friend. The Mexican also wrote the music for the song. Mr. Brown has a beautiful voice and after several rounds of applause he came back and sang "He Will Hold Me Fast." The last song was also in Spanish.

At the close of the meeting all present took the opportunity to shake hands with the speaker and to ask him questions. Mr. Brown will return to the missionary field as soon as the National Missionary Board meets and assigns him a place. The lecture was a fine one and to all who attended. Thursday Afternoon.

Several slight changes were made in the program Thursday afternoon. After Mr. Brown told of his recent Mexican experiences, Mrs. H. H. Howe gave an intensely interesting talk on "Why Our Young People are Not Interested in Religion." She told of the mothers and teachers taking care of the children. The children of today have too much to do and too many places to go to study the home and foreign missionary work. Mrs. Irving Drew read "Echoes from the Synod." She told of the meeting held in Columbus on October 6, 7, and 8.

Following Mrs. Irving Drew's talk came the election of officers and the selecting the next year's place of meeting. Following is the result of the vote: President Mrs. E. H. Campbell, London; Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. Verna Stahl, London. London was chosen as the next place of meeting next fall. No definite date has been arranged.

Car Robbed, Two Men Being Held

Alfred Thomas and Oswald Ben of an east-bound freight train had been robbed by Officer Clark as they signed to Ashland, Ky. had been leaving the N. & W. terminals last night.

Investigation showed they were the two suspects held until the morning. They claimed to have purchased the meat at a grocery in Earlytown. Their pencil belonging to an N. & W. passenger was discovered and they were taken to the station. A search of the train after word came that the crew from a conductor's locker.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS NAME THEIR DELEGATE TO CONVENTION

Members of Delta Omicron, Royal Order of America, had a social gathering Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Louise Wente, on Eleventh street, to appoint a delegate to the convention, which is to be held in Highland county on October 28th. Mrs. Louise Wente, wife of Miss Edna Wilhelm, was appointed as delegate and very much enjoyed the evening was spent.

GOOD SPEECHES AT THE WEST END TENT

Rev. Johnson, of Wilmont, W. Va., and Charles M. Weyand, of the Broad Street company of this city, were the principal speakers at the day tent in the west end Thursday evening, which contained another good audience. F. S. Osborne, of the Y. M. C. A., officiated as chairman, and introduced the speakers. He also introduced Harry Porter, of the Y. M. C. A., of Perkins of Burgess, Ky., who contributed a testimonial for the dry cause, besides entertaining with a witty and humorous imitation of animals. Rev. Johnson, during the discussion of his subject, referred to the farm that had been visited upon his own family by the curse of drink, and discussed the question from every phase to show the wrongs that it brings upon communities where the business is permitted to exist.

The theme of Mr. Weyand's talk was that every man is "his brother's keeper," and that anyone who votes for the legalized liquor traffic was partly responsible for the poverty and misery visited upon the families of the drunkards.

Gray Hair Becomes
Dark, Thick, Glossy

Look years younger! Try Grandin's recipe of Sage and Sulphur and nobody will know.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and shine to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. It also ends dandruff, itching scalp and keeps itching hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Sundays we simply ask at any drug store for "Weyand's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle for about 60 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You danger a sprain or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application of it, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Move To New Home

Attorney and Mrs. George W. Sheppard, who have been occupying 111 H. Howe gave an intensely interesting talk on "Why Our Young People are Not Interested in Religion." She told of the mothers and teachers taking care of the children. The children of today have too much to do and too many places to go to study the home and foreign missionary work. Mrs. Irving Drew read "Echoes from the Synod." She told of the meeting held in Columbus on October 6, 7, and 8.

To Be or Not To Be; That Is The Question?

WHEN old age comes along, do you expect to be able to sit back in your easy chair and smile, at ease with the world, safe and secure in the knowledge that while you had youth, strength and energy you laid away a sufficient amount of money for just such a time?

Or will it find you unprepared—without enough money to keep the wolf from the door—without shelter to keep out the icy blasts of winter—without where to lay your head.

You Can Choose Either Course

now while you are in the hey-day of your existence—your mind is clear, your muscles strong and with a splendid position. There are no two ways about it—you will either be something in old age or you'll have nothing. Which will it be? That is a question over which you should ponder. You know what you should do, but knowing and doing are two different things.

We suggest that you open an account here—where your interests will be safeguarded—here where accumulations are yours for the asking—where your savings will grow amazingly fast.

It's all up to you—we stand ready and willing at any time to do our share—will you do yours? We will leave the question with you.

Caught West Sider Stealing His Corn

Raymond Sommer, a clerk at Henry Blockner's grocery on Market street, while en route home Thursday evening caught a certain well-known West Sider in the act of stealing corn from the bottom lands of his father, Frank Sommer, of Carey's run.

Over 100 bushels of corn have been stolen from the Sommer place opposite the government light in the past few nights. Over 25 bushels of corn were stolen from the county infirmary Wednesday night and from all reports corn thieves were never so active this fall. Land owners expect to appeal to the county authorities for relief.

FISH STILL IN THE CREEK

J. B. Dever and Charles Lombard, clerks for W. C. Bateman, harnessmaker, are quite sure that their employer is not a real fisherman. Brush Creek was the place chosen for catching the fish but as Bateman returned empty handed, it is understood that the fish are still in the creek.

Wading In Water Is Cause Of Death

Excessive wading in water last summer is thought to have indirectly caused the death Friday morning of Ronald Copas, aged 7 1/2 years, at No. 510 Madison street.

The boy, who was a son of Clayton Copas, an employee of the B. & O. S. W. freight depot, had been laid up for seven weeks, suffering with chills and partial uraemic poisoning and finally developing acute nephritis or inflammation of the kidneys. His eyes had swollen shut and other parts of his body were affected.

The boy was a pupil of the fourth street school and besides his parents leaves an older brother, Dale, and a sister, Bonnie Grech. Frank Traut, proprietor of the West End hotel, was an uncle of the unfortunate lad.

The funeral will take place from the family home, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. J. E. Gilbert, assistant pastor of Bigelow M. E. church, will conduct the services. Burial will be in Greenlawn cemetery.
